

OVVO – THIN COLLECTION

Thinner hinge, same performance

October 29th, 2019

OVVO is proud to debut the THIN, a trend-setting new collection that blends form and material in perfect harmony. The patented screwless hinge was modified to discrete 6mm while maintaining its characteristics and durability.

Taking cues from modern art and minimalism, the geometric forms are accented by subtle technical details that highlight OVVO's uncompromising commitment to material integrity. Merging innovative technology with a rebellious spirit born from OVVO's European roots, the frames eschew traditional materials in favor of a surgical steel and titanium composite. The composite remains strong and durable even in a thin and airy format. Six gender-neutral styles are rendered in three contemporary colorways.

OVVO is no stranger to pushing the boundaries of form and function. Light, playful and free from unnecessary adornments, the THIN collection breathes new life into what a metal frame can create, balancing a delicateness with comfort and strength.
